All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

"Andvari" by Sigur Rós. I encourage anyone who's into ethereal-sounding post rock or anything gentle and soothing to give this a listen.

Formerly Banglerlands. I came back after realizing how much I miss this screwball place.

I'm a 25 year old American guy originally from New York. Unfortunately, I'm stuck in the south. Someone come shoot me, please.

Pro: Capitalism, right-wing economics, gun rights, LGBT rights, green energy, low taxation, Reaganomics, military, individual freedom, legal immigration
Anti: Socialism, communism, abortion, religious extremism, political correctness, Obamanomics and Obamacare, Keynesian economics, censorship, illegal immigration

Social Libertarian/Authoritarian: -2.97

Most in New Banglerlands are of British, American or Canadian descent. As such, we have a similar society to these nations.

When I was 13, or 14, they were my favorite band ever. My dad added them to his music to give them a try, and he suggested them jokingly to me for something to 'wake up', and I listened to them anyway, and instantly loved them.

Been following them ever since, and various other projects like Jonsi (The singer) side project, Jonsi, and Jonsi & Alex and various other things.

Edit: How much of them do you know? Because I can give you suggestions for them.

Ajattara-Massat

Think this is the main album I've heard my dad listen to by them. Which is like acoustic metal-ish.

everyone knows that quote, "I know not what weapons World War Three will be fought, but World War Four will be fought with sticks and stones," but in a way it's optimistic and inspiring because it suggests that even after destroying civilization and returning to the stone age we'll still be sufficiently globalized and bellicose to have another world war right then and there

Yeah. I actually liked their black metal-ish feel even before I really got into the metal scene. Something always grabbed me about their music when I heard my dad listening to them years ago.

Russian Circles-Deficit

This album came out today. I'm not slacking off on listening to it like I am with the new Pelican, And So I Watch You From Afar, and some other album I can't think of right now.
