It's a nation made up of several other nations, which have committed genocide upon one another. Trippy as hell.

Logikie's modern history started as a nation called Efar which was controlled by a dictator named Amon Hawk who sold territories for corporations to use and have people work as slaves. This, understandably, enraged a part of the population, prompting for a communist revolution led by an individual named "Rukav".

Military service is compulsory by law; however, compulsory military service in the Pan-Asiatic States has never been enforced due to the already large numbers of military and paramilitary personnel.

I'm just a simple man trying to make a country on the internet. And yes I do not use NS stats.

The Democratic Socialist Republic of Karevka (DSRK) is supposed to be a stand-in Soviet Union, although with major differences like the allowance of private business (But the state is a partial owner) or the fact that they allow LGBT marriage. Kind of alternate history or alternate universe I guess.

As their country has a non-euclidean symetry, I wonder if their official area is set on the measures of the interior or the exterior... And... maybe their leader has a non-euclidean symmetric pill, in which he can get into and spy everyone else because they would not have suspicions on a little blue pill let somewhere without any explanation...

You know, I never actually realised that Eisenstein is only 38 years old. For some reason I had the impression it was a lot older.

Anyway, it seems that the motivation behind Eisenstein's retreat into interdimensional nomadism was an apocalypse in the form of the 'Abyssal Hordes' - swarms of creatures originating from recently reopened ancient gateways, set on nothing less than the annihilation of life. It seems that they were one of only two nations to adopt the 'hide from the danger' approach, the other being the kingdom of Elytria that sealed itself forever within a magic barrier. The rest tried to fight the Hordes, and apparently failed.

You know, I think Iciaros and Eisenstern share a bit of similar history regarding apocalypses aiming at wiping out all life...

Though the previous emperor was responsible for uniting the nation, and was known by his epithet of "The Savior", he was also a violent man, prone to anger-driven outbursts, who would often beat and berate the future Empress. When his eldest daughter died, he fell into a deep depression, and even attempted suicide while in full view of his younger daughter. He eventually ended up poisoning himself, and named Alicia his successor in his suicide note.

The nation, or a region as a whole, that is extremely, extremely negative towards the Westerners to the point of ridiculousness. Is it a valid politic, or a policy? I would have to say yes, but some nations have went too far with opposing something for the expense of their own reputation, and this is an epitome of one.

With that said, the factbooks are still top-notch as ever, so A+ still on the factbook design.
