"I have no respect for this 'Emperor Narcissus', who for all his mystical trappings, is nothing more than another run-of-the-mill fascist who claims to be leading his people to greatness while oppressing them under his jackboot. The historical fascisms of old have never lasted beyond a few decades, maybe a century if they're very lucky, before collapsing under their own weight. I anticipate that this Emperor and his 'Divine Supremacy' will eventually meet the same fate, a glorious day for all of humanity."

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

Either way, it seems, that he starts off calm, but can get pretty loud - if so, good luck with Pickett, once you meet him - try to stay calm after tons of racial slurs flying (Not that I would like your people much either, though).

His ideology is pretty fitting for his time, and isn't something wild like Communism in the 16th century, when most of the Medieval Europe was still full with peasantry, and industrial revolution hadn't kicked in yet. I find it weird, that he supports absolutism and theocracy, yet he also is a pacifist. Of course, I might not be the biggest warhawk, and think, that people and economy overall need some rest, but I personally do enjoy a good war or border skirmish. Also, let's not forget, that war also drives technological innovation.

He thinks, that he is very experienced in terms of spirituality and religiousness. While I might indeed love some fresh info about Native American religions, I still personally prefer Christian mysticism by Codreanu and Father America, along with occultism. On the other hand, it seems, that Aztecs have already fallen in your world - time for some gunpowder, then.

If Papa America was still around, he would probably screech something about Manifest Destiny, but as he isn't... Well, I am just going to say, that in far future, it is highly likely, that the white men will arrive to your lands too, and put your people in reservations, dissolving your kingdom and taking it away from whoever will rule it at that time.

If Papa America was still around, he would probably screech something about Manifest Destiny, but as he isn't... Well, I am just going to say, that in far future, it is highly likely, that the white men will arrive to your lands too, and put your people in reservations, dissolving your kingdom and taking it away from whoever will rule it at that time.

Regards,

Supercomputer Tom, the General Secretary, General of the Mankind, and Eternal President of WSRSC

"Ah yes, if it isn't the great clockwork brain, here to enforce his twisted, socialist beliefs and stand in the way of a proper, civilized economic system, like colonial mercantilism. People have a right to not pay their slaves! While I do find myself in agreement with several of his views, he is but a cog-mind, unfit to rule as a proper monarch. I find it unusual that the cog-mind is in support of the proper and civilized science of eugenics. By the merits of eugenics, some persons, such as royalty, are more fit to rule than others. This would mean that Tom should step down and appoint a monarch in its place, one who's superior blood makes them only right and just for that position. I would be happy to take this position, as it is only fit that someone of my royal bloodline rule over all that is. After all, the blood of gods runs through me. What kind of blood does a cog-mind have anyways? Coal? Coal is not blood, certainly not superior blood."

- His Glorious Excellency, Galerius Illustris Augustus Severus Lupus Cornibus Maximinius Julianus Magnus Purpurus Celsus Lucius Attius Mancinus III, by the will of the gods, Holy Emperor of Caligolus of the Most Honorable and Distinguished House Illustris, King and Consul of Gurstom, of Echahar, of Chuegularia, of the Free State of Lobolen, of Bunovania, of Akandi, of Ashenfall, of the Free State of Karngestran, of Denema, of Ghostring, of Upper and Lower Haddenhelm, of Tobalenhi, of the Holy and Imperial Sovereign Free State of Greater and Lesser Trendarenhalspen, Archconsul of Caligolus, Overlord of the Northern Spire, Sovereign Ruler of the Greater Imperial Territories, Magister of the Free City of Cebelin, Magister of the Honorable Order of the Golden Eye, Magister of the Exalted and Regal Order of the House of Kings, Magister of the Distinguished Order of the House of Majesty, Conqueror of all the Land, Sea, and Sky, Master of The Ten Thousand Winds, Lord-Regent of all the Elements and Spirits, Protector of the World, the celebrated ruler of the land, who is crowned and rules by the glory of the Imperial gods, whose eye may see ten million things, and whose very decree forces the Sun to rise and set in acknowledgement of his divinely ordained rule.

Please call us "the Holy Empire" ICly, unless specifically referring to our primary ruling state.

PT/FanT - don't underestimate us just because we're PT, the FanT is strong with this one.

Yes our leader has a long title. No, that is not a self-appointed title, nor by choice. It is of political significance; excluding even one part of the title could lead to revolts.

This nation does not represent my actual views. Anyone who thinks otherwise can talk to our friendly inquisitors.

Medieval-esque politics meets colonization meets early firearms meets high magic meets eugenics meets early chemistry meets humorism that actually works meets trenches (because Fireball go brrr) meets 8 million crusades meets cosmic horror.
