Their ethnic data state 71% of the population is Jewish, though religious data states only 63% practice Judaism.

(and yes, i do know Jewish ethnicity and Jewish religion are different things, it just seems that it would be a bit odd for an Israel nation whose sole ideology is Zionism and possibly totalitarianism.)

The economic system involves semi-decentralized planning with local and federal councils, for more flexibility compared to earlier attempts at planned economies. Agricultural self-sufficiency is a major priority, with as much food as possible being grown locally, and multiple crops being grown in the same area. Automation has reduced work to 20 hours a week, and advertising is now deemed an unnecessary field. Tourists can visit the many cities and national parks of North America.
