Themselves? Not a crime. Someone else, depends on context, if it was intent to kill or just to injure then the former will give you a solid few decades in prison whereas the latter will probably be one or two years.

Deliberately drugging someone else?

Imperial States of Duotona

Duotona is a nation nestled in the Pacific Ocean. Marked by the scars of its bloody past, the people of Duotona persist and have given the nation a voice from which it preaches the word of peace and democracy across the globe!

Nation reflects OOC views. NS stats are sent to the shadow realm.

3 months to 30 years, depending on the severity of the drugging (a small amount of soft drugs results in a shorter sentence than murdering someone with drugs)

Treated as normal arson, depending on severity between 6 months to 5 years imprisonment, plus any damages, and a murder/manslaughter charge for any people killed.

however may land you in jail for 3 months to 3 years and a fine of up to $250,000 (and worse if it actually leads to something happening).

10 years minimum if you don't take part in the active rehabilitation program, if you take it you could get a lesser sentence but it also depends on the crime's severity

Take you into custody and sentence you to a month or so of jail time and a hell of a lot of probation, as well as asset forfeiture (once sentenced) to repay the victim.

Murder in the first degree is a capital felony, which carries one of three punishments: death by execution, incarceration for life without the possibility of parole, or incarceration for life with a 25-year wait until parole eligibility.

In this case, it would probably be 25 years to life.
