Unlike most nations, being ruled or led by an individual. They, on the other hand, are ruled by an oligarchy.

Leonid Gorova, the Father of the Civil Code. Never seen a nation write about their civil coding system or the person/persons who created it.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

A lot of parties aligning in the authoritarian-right part of the spectrum (would advise them to form one large, unbeatable party).

This nation also reminds me of an anime, "Legend of The Galactic Heroes."

Unlike most hereditary monarchies, where the designated successor ascends to the throne after the death of the previous monarch. They, on the other hand, evaluate the successor before granting their ascension or well recognizing them as the successor.

The battle of Minax V was the first contact between the Eridans and Humans, and after that, the two races had hostile relations up until the Eridans helped the humans rebuild some of their planets after The Covenant ravaged some of these, which resulted in the scars of the past healing. Almost amazingly, Eridans and Humans realized they both descended from the same Hominid genome, somehow.

They are a constitutional monarchy but the monarch still holds considerable power.

Everyone always uses the black market factbook...

Before ya'll talk about the horses:

Important Cultural ethics: https://www.nationstates.net/nation=the ... id=1199646

A theme that kinda fits the Empire's aesthetic:

"LoL yOuR nS iSn'T pOsSiBIE!" Really? I had no idea!

I'm not the greatest at getting down all relevant information in a factbook so if anything needs clarifying or explaining just ask me in TG's.
