This site stresses me out, so I rarely come on here anymore. I'll try to be civil and respectful towards those I'm debating on here. If you don't extend the same courtesy then I'll probably just ignore you.

If we've been friendly in the past and you want to keep in touch, shoot me a telegram

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

I listen to various things when I'm depressed

Or I listen to a song that makes me sad because it makes me remember something, sometimes simply a great game.

Well it's kind of a tongue in cheek blues song. It's still sad though.

Oh man, I forgot about this song. Beautiful relaxing guitar song. Ambient brilliance.

I remember more Eyvind Kang then I realized, as well. I thought I just knew the Virginal Co-Ordinates album

And only 10 minutes in the song, so still listening to it.
