Inkopolitia wrote:

Their nation is largely considered the leader of the International Alliance of Socialist Nations, which is important in turbulent times such as when you're in the middle of a 4 way? cold war.

Their nation also sees high development when it comes to space matters; They have a lunar base. This lunar base, strangely, is called Sol. (Sol means Sun in Spanish). This permanent base was constructed in March of 2032.

Sol, in this case, refers to the solar system, not the Moon, which is known as Luna; I am planning to add more to that part of the factbook sometime soon, covering the colonization of Mars (& it's Moons), as well as the establishment of permanent bases ever further from Earth. The Moon is home to far more than just a permanent base, as several powers have established largely self-sufficient colonies on the Moon, including an independent IASN-backed state on the planet.

Oh, I see. I misread that part. Gonna edit it

Inkopolitia is located in northwestern South America, and its territory consists of Colombia, Venezuela, Ecuador, the Guianas, Peru, and Bolivia. Its inhabitants, the 'Inklings', originally evolved from squids that left their original habitats as the expansion of human civilization drove them from their home

Also, they don't own the Galapagos Islands for some reason.

Matthieu XV holds strong anti-slavery ideals, using his resources as the monarch of an absolute monarchist system (That didn't last long) to ban all sorts of slavery and serfdom. After that, he reinstituted the French Parliament.

It's a unitary government. That would make them a 'United State', since it's no longer a federation, or anything even coming close to resembling the actual USA beyond having Mueller as the nation's Prime Minister. Eugh.
