"His outlook is a relic, and he spoils for a fight in order to preserve it if his appointment of a self-identified militarist is any indication. While I am the first among many to acknowledge the importance of one's homeland and the preservation thereof as a key motivator, there comes a point where that concern is both excessive and counterproductive. Pray we do not meet. Enlightenment will come at a great blood price, and while I do not seek war at the outset, I've the feeling you might just." -General Achaeus

The Kingdom of Tetchland

An almost-absolute Catholic monarchy that seceded from Sweden during the Reformation. It's something of a Western Hong Kong (pre-2019), being a small, densely-populated urban region that enjoys wide economic freedoms, modern amenities, and wealth, but holds a strong dedication to tradition with regards to religion, military, and national pride. It's on a small, fictional archipelago halfway between Sweden and Poland.

What's this, 1926? Oh yeah, sure, wow, he pioneered a bunch of democratization and privatization and deregulation and whatnot in the Reich. That's good. Hartmann is also merely just another foreign imperialist from far far away lands desperately clinging to the ancient, laughable belief that if you have a long nose and white skin, you automatically deserve a place in the sun.

Sips mung bean juice Sure, I admire him for taking over leadership at such a young age (something that I personally can only ever drool of), and for recognizing the importance of a strong UMKM (small and medium business) sector. That does not in the slightest grant him the right to stamp his boot in other people's lands, tens of thousands of kilometers away. In fact, as someone who is supposedly a ""steadfast proponent of civil liberties""", his rejection of the new reality of international conditions in favor of a Berlin-centered realpolitik expose him as a hypocritical, short-sighted 19th century classic imperialist. We do not use NS Stats, policies, or otherwise. Please only judge us by what is in our factbooks.

An alternate history version of China in which the alliance between the Kuomintang and the Communist Party never broke down, eventually resulting in a federalized, democratic China. Though one of the world's strongest economies and an emerging superpower, China continues to suffer from high rates of income inequality, an overreaching and sometimes corrupt government, and cultural issues that continue to persist despite the efforts of many reformers over the decades. Most factbooks are still an active WIP.
