Speaking of.....I found this at one point. People are weird.

Interesting. I guess you can make a dubstep song out of anything.

"Wifey Ting" by David Neurotic. I scarcely criticize rap, but I couldn't help but point out that this is the most depressing rap song I've ever heard.

Apparently. That genre is so bastardized.

Is that in a good or bad way? Depressing as in the song is terrible, or depressing as in sad?

I guess I could just click the link.... ☐

The sweet sound of Silence

I thought I could do this again, but I have too much on my plate. I have to actually give up on this. Sorry everyone.

Background noise by My Family.

I'm on AEST time zone so I probably won't reply to posts or TMs until what most of you consider very late at night.

Interesting series of posters here. One is listening to silence, which I do here and there. Another isn't very specific about what they are listening to, beyond it being "techno", and one person is listening to noise by family :) No actual like, bands mentioned with 3 posts made in a minute.

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Figured it was time I actually finished going through this album. Definitely my favorite hip-hop type of stuff, but still not sure it is something I'd listen to often. Some of the best composition I've heard in a hip-hop artist musically. Typically musically hip-hop bores me.
