Hello there, it's great to see a face that isn't another me for the time being. I hope you are doing well. I am, well, kinda, and don't really want to talk about it to avoid bringing up not so great memories. Anyway, it's intriguing to see the role of Dictator being used for emergency purposes only like dealing with a pandemic as example. Very intriguing, indeed, and you seem to be quite competent in this role to ensure stability and save as many lives as possible. Good on you. Otherwise, I don't got much to say as your profile seems to be still in its construction phase. Overall my stance is neutral.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

For his present self is quite, troubling, to say the least. His devotion to Buddhism is alarming, and his support for individualism and hedonism are detrimental to all that he previously had worked toward. This 'enlightening' has ruined him, to the extent that I find myself more inclined to now indorse Pinochet rather than the disgrace that he's turned into. He and those foolish enough to follow him

Well I guess I interpreted your factbook incorrectly. Though I knew your Pinochet was Ancap, and I tried to imply that Waldgrave was so disgusted with what Allende had become that he'd now support Augusto over him. And yeah, I used an image of Congo Muller for my leader before, though when I found the hoi IV portrait, I thought it fit better. Being in color and all.

Right now, I'll focus on one of the most positive things about him - his commitment to improve islam and make it more peaceful, so it can easily coexist with other religions and cultures. Radical islam left an invisible scar on him, and caused many changes in his path, first one way, then the other. Oh hello again, Marcia Marchetti. You seem to doing fine from last time, that's good. Also your term as emergency leader has yet to succumb to any problem besides the ongoing pandemic that is affecting your world, which is also good. In regards to your politics, they are tolerable, though would be incompatible, in old and present day Zakkia, aside from meritocracy, environmentalism and religious freedom. Though with the latter.
