All the Emus are killed by Batman from the Man thread who didn't actually die. He then helps the Lorax massacre the rest of the world but Australia, where the only living being that are not plants, Loraxes, or Batman, are alive.

Bobland decides to accept the policy of neutrality and isolation though they will accept any trade agreements between them and another nation (unless the leader despises them). This way it will build up its defenses and give its troops a break after the amount of wars that were fought (that Caribbean war that probably ended).

Supreme Man flings Uno Reverse Savior halfway across the world. Uno Reverse Man lands in Australia because of the powerful swing of Supreme Man and meets a group of humans, sentient Emus, and slime beings who harbor Uno Reverse Man and help nurse him back to health.

The Penguin Empire takes over the Falkland Islands to continue their support for the CCA, Algerbil Alliance, and the Anti-Catalan Coalition (ACC). Meanwhile, with Uno Reverse Savior out of the way for the moment, Supreme Man sends skilled agent Supaidāman to start a war between Central America and NewState (a nation that owns most of North America if I am correct).

Supaidāman successfully begins a war between the nations. And in the process, with some bribing power from Supreme Man, successfully gets California and Texas to join the Asuncion Pact. The way that Supaidāman started the war between the New State and Central America was through causing a number of riots in Chiapas and Guatemala and then detonating numerous dirty bombs with stolen radioactive technology from both countries.

Central America aligns itself with the CCA but keeps itself neutral. Supaidāman gets the New State to join the Asuncion Pact, which intensifies the war further and increases the anger of President Burrito Chimichanga of the former Burrito Republic because the New State owns Wyoming, Chimichanga's former homeland.

Hawaii launches a barrage of non-nuclear ICBMs at NewState and California cities on the Pacific; and utilizes magnetohydrodynamic drives in order to stealthily have submarines launch attacks on coastal and shipping facilities of California; damaging the ability for California to retaliate with naval force against Hawaii.

Supreme Man continues leading his troops directly in combat, with his powers basically making bullets useless against him, and his supernatural abilities making him a foe to be feared. Additional Martian and Catgirl troops arrive at the fronts in Europe and the Pacific to help assist the Algerbil Alliance.

The war continues. A more brutal front has opened up in the Americas.

Supreme man serious punches Emus into the moon, causing a large crater there, then a epic fight ensues between Supreme man and Emuus, ending with the destruction of a few of saturn's moons, and Emuus being launched across the galaxy.

So the current gods I think are: Supreme and the other man, plus Uno Reverse Savior, well Emuus is a god but he's on the other side of the galaxy.

The quizzed Lunar Knight, asks the elemental this:

"If you are an elemental, why do you let me live?"

Capuchin-Alpha is hypersapient and immortal, but he has no other powers. So he's basically the bare minimum.

across the galaxy.

So the current gods I think are: Supreme and the other man, plus Uno Reverse Savior, well Ernuus is a god but he's on the other side of the galaxy.

President Burrito B. Chimichanga is powerful enough to hold some blows from Supreme Man, but not strong enough to beat him in a direct 1v1 as Chimichanga is still new to the powers he absorbed from the remnants of his people, the Burritos. Uno Reverse Savior on the other hand is likely the tutelary deity of the No Rules RP universe, making him very powerful, enough power to reverse time and events related to the no Rules RP Universe, but not multiversally powerful.
