They're a bunch of Posadists living on the moon. I wish I could tell more but there's only 3 factbooks

Description: I'm an MT Sweden under a fictional far-right ideology known as Holmism.

Basically Modern Sweden + "Folk, I gevär" + Lev Gumilov + Rampant Factionalism + Political Tension + Swedish Neo-Nazism + Sprinkles of Wacky.

Connomia is a version of Sweden currently governed under the coined government style of 'Holmism', which presents itself as a sort of benevolent dictatorship.

Interestingly, it is a supportive member state of the EU, despite this style of government generally being despised by the RL European Commission.

I'd love to learn more about Connomia as it develops, interesting concept.

September 23rd 2040... The then fledgling Anti-Gravity Racing Commission establishes a unified superstate to act as a gigantic test track for high speed AG racing in an effort to revive a bankrupt European Federation.

In 2241, we've taken that to another level. Behold the advent of governance through entertainment.

It seems that racing of all things is quite important for their world. They have racing teams coming from all across the globe to compete in the AG leagues to win and showcase their own unique vehicles, weaponry, and even lofty ideals such as European unity & a shining destiny for Africa onto the spotlight. All and all it left a intriguing first impression on me, keep it up.

"Waisnor currency is divided up into coins and banknotes. The currency is dubbed as "Thalers" but for clarities sake I am going to reference them as dollars and cents because it's easier that way. If ya want to be more accurate read the damn factbooks yourself.

Coin values start at 50 cents, followed by a dollar coin, a two dollar coin and lastly a 5 dollar coin.

Banknotes start at 10 dollar values and go to extremes as large as 2,000 dollar values.

It should be noted that Waisnor Thaler Banknotes feature instead of leaders like say the US dollar, they instead feature scientists, athletes and actors. Which is pretty cool honestly."

It seems that AN is kinda based on the drink in Fallout and is also taken after WW3.

So in a nutshell AN is a Fallout Shelter

AAN: Marut's logic in pushing for the Odyssey to be renamed after her was that if she was the biggest threat they had on the ground then the biggest threat they had in the sky should've been named after her as well.

Not sure how sound that logic is, but hey, she probably deserved it or something.

Oh, and apparently the board is terrified of her, given that they hesitated when saying that the Odyssey was the stronkest ship they had, took no retribution when she called them cunts, and promptly described her as the stronkest thing they had on the ground. That's pretty impressive, not gonna lie.

The berghi empire's focal point is the Chigere river that can bring great bounty or great death. Although the Berghi claim a lot of land besides the river and it's margins, it can de facto only control a small portion of the claimed territories.

I'm eagerly awaiting for a berghi legions vs kiu hordes showdown.

Their nation isn't really a nation (as we'd think of it) but more independent city-states united by a common religion that, more or less, act independently from each other but all pay tribute to their church, obey their religious priests, and supply men and ships whenever the church decides to go to war/have a raiding party.

I was rather surprised when I learnt that French was their official language rather than Occitan (which is a shame as Occitan is one of my favourite languages), and was even more surprised that this has been the case since the 9th century, though reading on I also learnt that the Aikolandais themselves don't even know why this is the case or how French originally came to be spoken in the first place.

For the BN: Apologies in advance for the unfinished factbooks, I'm going as fast as I can! I'm hoping I've written enough so that you can find something interesting in the General Information factbook!

I have learned that Elon Musk's plan to conquer Mars didn't go through and that the person that did manage to conquer Mars is part of Eden Biotech, a business supported by the United Nations.

Am I correct?

While I can't find out much, they seem to be Jamesian's world's equivalent of Iran. However, they've got very little in the way of independent lore, making it hard to figure anything out.

I suppose in a sense you are correct, though perhaps 'conquer' is not the right word. Elon Musk may have been the first to take humans to Mars, in co-operation with the ESA and NASA, but the actual colonisation of the Red Planet didn't take place until way after that. He may be remembered as the "Father of Mars", but it was the work of the "Mother of Mars", Victoria Eden, that led to the creation of the Homo martiensis who now populate Mars, and so in a way I suppose she could be considered to have been the one who 'conquered' Mars in the end. I hope that cleared up any confusion!

They were once one big colonial nation that shattered into a bajillion pieces due to generalized neglect and have since turned into several dozen-ish sub-nations that all hate each other, want to conquer each other, or some iteration thereof.

I didn't want to go too deep yet. That's a helluva rabbit hole yer going for.
