It's set in the Fallout universe and covers the setting of Fallout 4. Both Nora and Nate survived (although Nate is actually a synth) Nate is the General of Minutemen and Nora is the overboss of the Nuka World Raiders.

Partially inspired by the Third Odyssey mod for EU4, this nation is essentially a Byzantine successor state in South America that has fused together Ancient Greek Religion with Greek Orthodox Christianity. It mixes the aesthetic of Byzantium and Ancient Greece, with very open and liberal social values but with an Imperial Monarchy. NS stats are referenced but are not strictly followed to a T.

It's the byzantine empire, except they decided to cede all their land to their neighbors and move over to south america in their entirety. Because one guy said Jesus told him to do it, and the emperor just sort of went "yeah alright".

I've learned quite a bit, but mostly... there's quite a bit of detail going on. Nice! They're a bunch of interdimensional traders with something of a turbulent history - which is really only to be expected with nations such as that.

They have a progressive Islamic political party, known as the 'Islamic Democratic Party'. They support traditional Islamic values, but also advocate for modernizing certain aspects of the Quran.

Gryphons leave Humans useless when it comes to physical capabilities, as they outrank humans in nearly every physical department. Despite this, they're locked in a constant war situation with the various Human territories.

They have Spaniards, nekos and mixed species folks. The culture is strongly collectivistic which is intolerable. Spaniards are patriarchal while nekos are gynocentric.

Welcome to the Enugu League Governate of the Mediterranean Region (ELGMR)! After WWIII the Mediterranean region has become almost completely depopulated since ethnobioweapons wiped out all non-blacks. We are here now because we need to get the tech from former European countries so that we won't have the tech decline. To help us please contact Jessica Udene for she is actually the person in charge.

Huangtzu, being the largest continent of the planet of Echyria, is also called the "Sin Desert". Regardless, the territory is split up in 16 independent nations. Surprisingly, Huangtzu's population is so sparse that countries such as the United Kingdom that has 3 times the population, has a much smaller territory.

The Commonwealth, despite its technological leanings, has a significant religious population and a Muslim political party. In keeping with a transhumanist bent, however, that party seems to be somewhat progressive, even going so far as to suggest reforming the Quran.

An event known as the Valkyrian Crisis happened between the years of 704 - 706 AA. It was a tense but non-violent period of tension between the then-Valkyrian Imperium of Iciaros and the then-independent nations of Fonto, Arenios, and Oriol. The crisis ended with the capitulation of the three independent nations, which subsequently became autonomous protectorates of Iciaros.

Also they're a "Mother Knows Best State" somehow. How?

The Sourdian (sic) elephant averages at 15 feet in height, but some males can grow to 20 feet, which makes it a pretty big elephant (the modern African bush elephant, Loxodonta africana, grows to about 13 feet tall as a maximum, with males averaging out at 10.5 feet).

Apparently, AN is similar to the US in that they were founded by colonists of some far away monarchy but rebelled to make their own country, except its the Spanish and not the British.

Mar-Sara has a nonpartisan democracy – which makes me wonder, are parties banned or simply unnecessary/unfashionable?

Parties are banned. The last time we had parties they became corrupt and started ruling the government as if they were our kings and queens.

They originated as part of a UN-controlled colonization attempt of Mars. Then the UNs influence on Mars as a whole collapsed during some unspecified crisis, granting them independence as a state.
