The flag represents a multitude of things- Red represents blood and valor spent during the civil war, black represents desperation and determination, gold represents prosperity, justice, and virtue. White is in remembrance of those who lived.

Seeing such a symbolic flag is amazing.

Please use Factbooks when referring to this nation.

They have a polytheistic pantheon with what seems like a mixture of Christian and Greek mythos. They also allied with Britain during World War 2 against the German Reich.

Alcohol consumption is more or less a cultural staple, and it is impolite to refuse offered alcohol. They also have many alternative alcoholic beverages brewed from materials that may be found in a subterranean environment, such as mosses and fungi.

They're an alternate history US, seeing the establishment of an emperor. However, they have retained a lot of the US' progressive ideals and in some ways are even more progressive than the United States in our timeline.

An Oligarchic state where the ultra-rich govern a nation of entrepreneurs and innovators. Just as corrupt, hedonistic and materialistic as you think, despite its progressive policies and emphasis on quality of life.

There appears to be 2 conlangs that occur in Kronova, Krovac and Chalian. So that's double the fun. 😊

Also after reading, it really gave me vibes of an Eastern European that was very sentimental of Lenins time, or just a very educated Westerner that's a Marxist-Leninist.

Surprisingly enough, the most strange (and ahistorical) thing about their version of the United State is neither the social progressive atmosphere nor the monarchy, but the fact they're a unitary state, of all things.
