Thanks! I tried putting a coat of arms I made on another flag but it didn't work out, so I tried some test designs and decided on this one.

how and why

Full explanation: Meadowfields is an extreme form of a multi-party system, where even though most parties stay for a while in the lower house, politics can fluctuate so much that elections are held every year. There are currently 42 political parties represented in the lower house, and around 563 registered parties. A political party has never been able to win power on its own, however most political parties are grouped into large coalitions with at least four parties (the largest one has around 20) that may win power on their own. The largest singular party, the Labour Party, only won 7.38% of the vote in the last election.
