The First North American permanent base on The Earth's Moon was built on March 8th, 2032, at a time where the Moon had essentially become the new Terra Incognita for the nations of earth to be discovered and colonized.

The Republic of Chile is a democratic Republic in South America, and one of the Lesser Powers. Chile is often torn by wars, but that only helps them improve the quality of their army.

They've created an epic lore of interlocking constituent sino-soviet states spanning most of Asia. It feels authentic, realistic, and government has been thought about and planned down to minute levels; for instance, the appointed government officials presiding over Japan, Indochina, etc.

Also, I apologise about my silly mistake from an earlier comment.

Not the Ubermenschen but one of the Ubermenschen races. We respect other civilized peoples especially white Aryans.

Harshness is only reserved for anti-civilizational tropical elements that we dealt with because nobody else was willing to defend human civilizations against their attacks. Such tropical elements still exist in Aryan lands and we can see how harmful they are. According to a recent research paper by Ping Zhang and Taro Kobayashi of the South Pacific University pretty much 30%-35% of the resources from an average Aryan state is used to coddle the tropical elements while we spend 0% on this eternal resource hog.

It is yet another eastern Austronesian country not very different from Palau, Tuvalu or Fiji. However surprisingly it is actually fairly wealthy. Its natural resources are why just like Equatorial Guinea they actually have some money.

I agree that it is harsh. However it is a necessary evil. Before we could figure out why the hell certain tropicals are statistically very likely to be problematic we had no choice but expel them to places such as Zimbabwe and Colombia.

We can discuss morality later. Right now we first have to protect human civilization from potential alien attacks and hence we can't afford to let tropicals disrupt stellar defense. For the greater good we had to do it. Sorry.

They believe in the Nazi myth of the Aryan race and Ubermensch. This also means they place races on a racial hierarchy, and most likely kill those they consider "undesirable".

You wonder why East Kekistani girls can have fun swimming in Lake Victoria and Congo River, unmolested. Young couples date in the parks in metropolises such as Shin Tokyo and Xin Beijing. Seniors jog and play board games in parks with no criminals mugging them. That's because we have completely settler colonized the region. Skyscrapers and highways are everywhere while tropical diseases from Ebola to Lassa fever and malaria have been eradicated. There is almost no violence just like in the homeland. Many families have moved into large houses unavailable in our homeland because our homeland was and is crowded.

P.S. Our girls love local tropical fruits. We managed to domesticate a lot of veggies and fruits that were never domesticated before and we like them. Many cultivars even get imported to the homeland and other colonies!

Their technology level is heterogeneous and typically ranges from steam-based power to "fantasy" and magic. Also like Touhou there are artifacts of more exotic...or maybe mundane...technology from other dimensions.
