"Huh, he indeed is an one hell of an ancient leader, basically a presence from the past. When teaching magic, and using those "beasts" for the military, he also drove a revolution of a sort, intentional or not, just like I, when I threw away the parts of warrior code which hindered our arts of killing. Anyways, his story of escaping from this so called "Rapture" is pretty interesting - haven't had the "honor" to met with them yet, but it seems that their leaders have quite the infamy around there. Either way, his ability to bring out so many groups together for an one cause shows, that he has basically been given the characteristics of a leader. I quite like him, opinion's positive."

"Previously unknown or undocumented feline species appear to be frequenting to emerge from their inclusive forested or urban habitats, and have begun establishing contact with other races and nations. Such is the case with this Emperor, though he cannot be accurately described as being completely racially feline, for it seems he has human ethnicity as well. These two species seem unlikely to have ever reproduced with each other, but much more strange racial pairings have been noted in the past. By effect of his mixed ethnicity, he is considered an outcast by the majority of humans for being too feline, and is similarly rejected by cats for having too many human traits. Unfortunate, though not surprising. Racial attitudes aside, the Emperor leads an especially meager domain of city-dwelling cats whose diets compromise almost exclusively of waste. So too is he described as having tenuous relations with the Jellicle cats he is supposed to govern, said to have manufactured weapons with the sole intent of murdering them. Quite odd. In truth this Emperor is nothing too impressive, as he claims an ineffectual lordship over an admittedly interesting yet ultimately insignificant tribe of feral creatures."

“Tsk, a military dictator of a fascist regime, such a depressing cliché if not for the fact that he WORSHIPS that same "Regime". He's not even the most capable guy that can run the country, from the looks of it. There are more to ruling a country, or even a department, than medals on a battlefield. But hey, at least he's a FAR better alternative than the previous guy (which now that I think about it, explains many things), and while I have massive doubts, maybe the ruling nomenklatura or even people can push for reforms under his reign.

Rein is an interesting individual. He's a gook who looks like a Caucasian male. That's something. Besides that, he represents the natural evolution of Indonesia society to capitalism. Admittedly, I admire his adoption of Western values, but I think his preference for capitalism is abhorrent. The West prospered in spite of capitalism, not because of it. If anything, he should be emulating Western socialism and labor activism, which was the true driver of Western prosperity. Then again, I doubt that gooks can truly create a democracy in that vein. I guess his attempts at creating a more flexible Islam are admirable, though I think simply eliminating religion is far better. The holidays and culture can stay, but slavery to god is denying the sovereignty of the citizen. After all, America is a nation of gods.

Regardless, I'm interested in his timeline. Indonesia in my timeline has stagnated under the Pancasila system, despite the stability it brought to Indonesia. Also, the nationalists apparently won the Chinese Civil War, and Pancasila is hardcore secularist. Definitely different than in my timeline. God, you're lucky. I have to deal with the People's Republic of China here.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...

Vice President Al Gore, if their story is accurate, is an excellent inventor who has been a great benefit to the society of the States. However, we suspect that their obsession with the ManBearPig is detrimental to their leadership capacity, and that it is entirely possible that their entire biography was sent as some sort of ancient Terran joke. Because of the impossible nature of their biography our opinion will remain neutral.
