@Hong Kong People

Maybe.

Welcome to the United States of South Appalachia

An independent early-1980s era American South, centering around the Appalachian cultural region.

PLEASE read factbooks before judging based on flag (unless a forum game instructs you to judge based solely on the flag), thanks.

I believe the reason AAU invited the next poster to respond to Kiu Ghesik is that Hong Kong People's post seems to misunderstand Kiu Ghesik, complaining about high taxes even though the signature indicates that the Ghesites are "Bronze Age nomads" who by implication have no tax rate and explicitly function in a system where the "state" (or at least the Caller) is the one giving out money, not the other way around.

“ Kiu Ghesik wrote:
Depends.

Anyhow, to reply to Kiu Ghesik. I'm afraid I would not want to live in the Ghesite Basin! I went on a backpacking trip once, and wow was it the hardest thing I ever did... a worthwhile thing, but definitely not my lifestyle. Respect to the Ghesites for being full on nomads and to nomads of the modern day.

I'll also offer a reply to the South Appalachian Region. I initially leaned toward a no, because I'm concerned about subconscious prejudices that seem like they may well exist despite people's politeness and decency. But then again, where I live in right now has subconscious prejudices that complement people's overt rudeness. So heck, in the worst case scenario, getting one out of the two in South Appalachia would be an improvement. And at the same time, the interest in Cherokee language preservation gestures toward a more inclusive attitude than the flag might initially suggest. So you know what, I'd give it a try. I'll still fly the old flag, though. Other considerations aside, I also think the flower flag is just prettier.

I'm not a fan of living in the tropics so probably not. Politically seems fine tho... apart from half his signature being about Hong Kong. Overdoing it perhaps?

My nation - which is pretty much just a unified Korea with some extra territory - represents my real views, as does pretty much anything I say on the forums. NS stats only broadly representative. Feel free to call me Q&K, Quartia, or any other nickname.

NO!

Our nation is Poland, but there was a great Nazbol revolution, which overthrew the PZPR and freed Poland from USSR, in 1993. The Iron Curtain still exists, but it has changed its borders.
