Stratonesia has no volcanoes, let alone an active one. However, if a Stratonesian does this to a person in a volcano which does not belong in Stratonesian territory, assuming there are witnesses, the perp will likely be charged with murder by whatever government that has full and legal territorial claim over the volcano, and then be extradited to Stratonesia, if possible.

Yeah no that right there is grounds for not just a simple execution with a bullet through the head, that's wayyy too quick. Most likely, red guards are gonna drag you out in public and do a bunch of stabbing and mutilation until that corpse is unrecognizable. Or they may just do a little dousing in gasoline and setting on fire. Or the good ol' fashion break-every-bone-and-stuff-into-bag-full-of-rocks-and-throw-into-body-of-water. Regardless, it will be quite brutal, and honestly quite deserved

Execution upon capture with all their loots seized.

While being drunk and speeding on the wrong side of the road, your citizen used the skyway's stairs as a ramp and fly the car right through someone's home, causing the gas leak and explosion in their house, and the car was propelled by the explosion's shockwave into the pillar support of the nearby elevated highway, causing the road to collapse and killed several drivers and pedestrians.

Yeah, execution by hanging, most proly in public if there were any officer casualties(in order to deter any further incitement). Granted, that is if you aren't immediately shot and killed on the spot by the police, given that lethal force is legally sanctioned for law enforcement in the event of the dispersion of violent rioting.

Impersonating a law enforcement officer and then beating someone up?

In 1993, a coup established a military dictatorship marred with mass executions, torture, and disappearances. But it's not like things could get more brutal, right?

If you're a citizen you can be a voluntary law-enforcement office as a civilian as-is, so impersonating that would neccessarily require being a woman or minority, that carries a hefty fine, as for the beating... who exactly did you beat? A minority who stepped out of line? No crime, A citizen? whipping in public.

Considering slavery or a similar is legal in your nation: obstructing a slave/servant from carrying out the tasks given to him/her by his/her master?

While the slaves are of the lowest status and possess no rights, when they are carrying out their tasks as ordered, they inherit the rights and status of the one who gave them the order. Thus, by obstructing the slave carrying out their duties, the crime the perpetrator committed is relative to the owner's status, from misdemeanor to treason.

After released from the prison, your citizen, out of spite, decided to toss a brick into a storefront and breaking their window, but the brick also knocked over the lamp nearby into surrounding flammable and explosive materials such as papers and firecrackers, causing the whole building to instantly goes up in flame.

Panicked, the citizen hijacked a motorcycle nearby to escape, but accidentally knocking its motorcyclist over a passing car, killing them. While escaping, the citizen decided to go onto a highway to escape the district/county/state, but not knowing that said highway is under maintenance, speed up onto the ramp and through a passing train beside it, killed and injured several train passengers inside it, and landed on top of a paper box with a small abandoned puppy in it, but miraculously the puppy was only slightly injured.
