I would, but I would have to learn their language first.

-The United Federation of Planets- is a Star Trek-themed Nation set during the 2260s. Although we are based on the Original Series and JJ Abrams movies, the lore is fairly different from what we're based on. We do not use NS-Stats since they were designed to be used by modern nations, they don't fit too well with sci-fi themed ones like the Federation.
