Normal Man in a Normal World works in an office, everyday he presses buttons his computer monitor tells him to. One day, the computer monitor stops displaying instructions on what buttons to press. Oh, and also there's this voice that narrates everything.

Normal Man in a Normal World hacks 18,766 different government websites on his solar-powered gaming PC during the outage and illegally changes his name using Inspect Element to Norman Norman Man in a Norman World. Due to new skills acquired from illegally changing his name on a solar-powered gaming PC, Norman Norman Man in a Norman World transforms into a 4D creature. Norman Norman Man in a Norman World is now a force to be reckoned with.

(edit: is this how it works? or does it pass your control powers to man god?)

That Man, The Mananan, enraged and attacked the dodo violently, killing him with his bare hands while screaming about no one touching his lemons. After killing the dodo, he becomes calmer and decides to roast the dodo and use the lemons to season it.
