Hmm, if you're getting into that awesome post-metal/instrumental metal realm, I might have even more recommendations for you.

Though I like Pelican, their new album didn't do much for me for some reason. But I really like some of their other stuff.

Silversun Pickups-Lazy Eye

This songs title actually makes sense to me now that I have officially been confirmed to have a lazy eye myself.

I'm not really getting into post-metal realm. The reason why I liked that song in the first place was because of it's doom metal influences. And when I heard that their first releases were closer to doom metal and later releases are closer to post-hardcore, I kinda lost interest to them □

Penance - Wizards of Mind

Now almost 6 hours of Penance (their all albums). One of the best doom metal bands out there.

Laibach - Sympathy For The Devil (Time For A Change)

“ CVT Temp wrote:

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Penance - Eden Fall

Metal-archives lists this song as "Eden Fallen" but lyrics are false, so I think the song title -might- be false too. No, I don't have this album yet (just downloaded files) so I don't know the song's title for sure. I'm going with Eden Fall since it can be heard in the lyrics.

Shostakovich - Symphony No. 11 In G Minor Op. 103 "The Year 1905", January 9-th: Allegro-Adagio-Allegro-Adagion

And even more excellence!
