we, unlike the bourgeoisie, have nothing to lose and therefore our expression will be the only honest one, our words will be the only challenging ones and our art will be the one revolutionary expression. We need new noise and new voices and new canvases to become something more than the last poets of a useless generation.

Maybeshewill-Red Paper Lanterns.

still my favorite maybeshewill song. I love post-rock bands like this though, because they add more to their music than just 'post-rock'. These guys got some metal aspects, as well as some electronica stuff in it. Kinda like Sleepmakeswaves. It makes them more 'original' and neat.

Johann Johannsson-Escape.

One of my all-time favorite dark songs (Along with Sigur Ros' Untitled 7 and 8, and the Max Payne {2?} theme song, Max Payne 3 song by the band Health, and Mumford & Sons Thistle and Weeds song, along with an assortment of other songs}, and of course it's from Iceland. Iceland has a lot of great talented musicians who tend to do mellow music. I think it's kind of just the culture of the place, because Iceland seems to be pretty mellow itself, at least the people anyway.

Johann Johannsson-Fordlandia.

Very mellow, but very nice as well and one of, if not my favorite Johann Johannsson song.

Fiona Apple's new album as a whole. Not really any particular song at the moment.
