I guess I'm a hipster then. ☐

I'm not a fan though. I hate it when Radiohead fans are like "OMG, Radiohead is for smart people". Tbh, as far as I've listened so far, I prefer their earlier stuff instead of their newer stuff. I love a lot of the songs I've heard from The Bends (1995) so far and I love Creep. OK Computer (1997) is also great. I've only heard Idioteque from Kid A, which was ok, but I could do without it. I'm also pissed off how it's considered "intelligent dance music". I've listened to some songs from In Rainbows (2007) and I didn't like it. Their song Lotus Flower from The King Of Limbs (2011) is also crappy. :/

One of their early songs:

Radiohead - My Iron Lung

From: My Iron Lung (1994)
Genre: Alternative rock

The Who's Keith Moon - Uncle Ernie/good morning wankers

during a performance of the rock musical "Tommy" on March 31, 1973 in Sydney, Australia

Moon is hilarious in this vintage film clip and brings to mind what a comedian he was. Makes you wonder, could he have been the elusive 6th Marx brother? ☐

There are so many of them, best not to think they are all Canadian, eh? Unfortunately most of them today are owned by jerks like Clear Channel and have rigid playlists. I think DJs are artists in their own rights and sculpt out a message by playing personally chosen songs in a certain order to convey a message. This unfortunately threatens corporations because it involves free thought by a lower echelon employee and threatens their power structure and complete mind control agenda...so damn sad...perhaps I have said too much, perhaps I have said the truth! AHHHHH!

The Mothers of Invention - Who are the Brain Police? WARNING! This vid will scare the little kids in the room, early Zappa... WARNING!

Lo! what a madcap video. You make good points about today's commercial radio stations and what DJs used to do. Fortunately, there are still the college stations.

Thank you. I love your character and everything about you!
