No, it is not the Confederate States of America. No, it's not the South either. SU stands for 'States and Unions'. The right acronym is RCAS. Please read the Factbook.

His policies may seem strict but they are reasonable. He has subsidized everything that should help his people prosper and if they still don't take advantage of it, then it shouldn't be his responsibility to care for them. *after a moment of lengthy, accurate translation from Greek to English, this is what Demetria has said about George Senior:

"I have seen great civilizations rise, flourish, then decline, and finally fall from grace over the years. People, too, have supposedly rose to fame, flourished in it, and then they encounter a decline, and finally fall from grace later on in their lives. George HW Bush is such man; rising to popularity but then life had thrown an obstacle in his way that he is unable to pass through neither climb over. However, the man was already ruining his own image by accepting bribes, the people who threatened to blackmail him merely destroyed it even further. Giving drugs and money to people he attempts to persuade to join him makes it all the worst, I don't believe it is right on my part to speak fondly of such a corrupt man. In all, George HW Bush is a man in decline but is quickly heading towards his own downfall."

An alternate history version of China in which the alliance between the Kuomintang and the Communist Party never broke down, eventually resulting in a federalized, democratic China. Though one of the world's strongest economies and an emerging superpower, China continues to suffer from high rates of income inequality, an overreaching and sometimes corrupt government, and cultural issues that continue to persist despite the efforts of many reformers over the decades. Most factbooks are still an active WIP.

So while this Supreme Leader is a hero to the people he supposedly liberated from... 'ponytail pullings?' W...what? Oh, um, yes, where was I? Oh right. Yes, while he is recognized by his people as the 'father of the nation', I am doubting the legitimacy of that claim, let alone, his own abilities to rule half of a nation. Everything that is written in his biography only makes me more sceptical of this boy. Is he really that great as it is written? I don't personally believe so. And onto Al Gore. Now...this man...possesses a degree of child-like imagination. To hear a man loudly proclaiming that he is looking for a creature called the 'ManBearPig', well, the man needs to grow out of such wild and fantastical imaginary creatures and try to act his current age. No offence to this Vice President, even I wished to still hold onto my childhood imaginations when I was a child too."

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.
