"I truly resent people like the ones heading up this Directorate. They do something for their country that could be considered good - independence, in this case - and then they start pretending that the populace owes them loyalty because of that, even as they shirk from other meaningful reforms and stagnate the country. A true people's organization would entrust the people themselves to run the country, in the long run."

Well, I am wary of your general's assassination this past Ides of July...condolences to his or her family. Whoever their leader is, I hazard they rule with an iron fist and will likely disapprove, as they're probably an autocrat -before you call me a hypocrite, we have an elective parliament, filled with canker-blossoms though it be. Le Patron ordered his followers to write on a piece of paper, their thoughts on him and living in this country. He merely stated "write whatever you want" with great antipathy. But he had a devilish plan; he would impale those who only wrote two sentence less and had nothing to do with the topic regardless if they were critical of him or not. Le Patron looks at you and states "Now, how about you write something on that paper..."

"Under him, Nacrad has been engaged in endless amounts of war which I simply do not know what the hell is going on. It's true that war would make the Nacradians numb to violence and governmental intrusion into their lives. Younglings and "lack of experience", dross. He had so much potential as a young revolutionary but instead he only dirtied himself by entering politics and tainting himself with the political establishment. Music is good for the soul but we have very different views of what we might consider as music..."

A centrist and balanced leader, Mr. Matthew Smith would easily be welcomed into any number of our Imperial institutions, be it for a great debate, a cup of tea, or simply a meet-and-greet.

News: Days after the coronation of Queen Rose I, fifteen Senators have mysteriously vanished after returning to the Capital from a conference in Christine City. Among them is Phillip "Fighting Phil" Paddock, the Chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, who at 98 is the eldest member of the current Senate. President Hinterland issued a short statement of support, joined by Her Majesty the Queen, as the government has executed a number of orders to prioritize the search for the Senators.

Oswald's Mood: Greatly at odds

"For me to simply say the Le Patron is a madman is much like me saying that Generalfeldmarschall Baron Von Dorf is a simple idiot. This man went and hijacked a people in revolt against a massively unpopular government—and he succeeded in doin so, thus giving birth to the chaos that is Patagonia delivered by the people who pledge their allegiance to Konrad.

"His conquest over a society under law and order and then replacing it with his twisted vision of a society free from the order of things...to call him a delusional maniac is also an understatement in of itself. Every time I look at Patagonia under Konrad, I feel all the more determined to dissuade any support from the people going for to anarchists living under the flag of this fatherland—I do not wish the same fate for my country to fall into shadow away from the sun like Patagonia, and I'll be damned if my fatherland does fall apart in less than a fortnight."

After all, if she perceives us as some level of threat, then she knows, that we have something of value, we can and will gladly offer, should she ever say yes. My offer of cooperation and trade is still in power, all we both need is an approval from Godular side. Why do I care, ya ask? Ilia has extremely valuable intel, she is willing to part with for a reasonable price. But I guess, it's her isolation stance, that makes her reluctant to hear our offer. I am pretty sure, she will say "no", as she would prefer to obtain resources without foreign help. Perhaps, she believes, that entanglements may harm national security and let some enemy spies inside Godular. After all, there are envious people, who would want to topple such a powerful space empire."-Shawn Bjornson

"We do not make a habit of interacting with the Milky Way Galaxy. However, you are more than welcome to inquire with GRM if you should wish to make a purchase or establish a more consistent arrangement. For more involved negotiations, instruct your envoy to ask for Zodiac and inquire about 'Formal Arrangements'. Also, if you utilize the phrase 'Fear is the Mind-Killer', you'll get a fifteen percent discount!" -Antares, GRM Representative/Diplomat
