Chief Aviator Gwen Tracer Hepburn "Fate of Existence and the Ormiverse" Ellen Trixie Caitlin Foxworthy Anil Verlène Eveline Celinda Sammy Doris Wit. Oxtón Arielle Lindall Leslie Vitesse Allison: This feels like an ego-trip though I must say, I am liking the new and fancy layout I got for myself! Ahh, ahem, anyway, where were we? Oh yes, about you, my dear friend. It's been a while since we have last seen each other. I believe that we have not met each other here diplomatically just yet. I believe that we have our armies clashing in other universes... what, you don't know about it? Well, best that we keep it secret for now, hm? So, why am I here? I don't know, you called me! You are indeed a very fascinating being, and you must be wondering and asking me questions about your own universe.. or you simply want to talk to me out of the comfort aura, something that I gave out to people, perhaps. What a wonderful world, isn't it? Multiple minds, inside one body. Someone who should have been praised, but taken advantage of by the world and the people that he loved. How utterly tragic, I must say. For this, I would like to offer you a consolidation, or something along those lines. Unfortunately, even as a Fate, I simply cannot reverse the flow of actions that brought you to who you are. I can indeed do it, but... details, details! Some things, unfortunately, must not be interfered with too much, you understand. I wish you the best of luck in the journey that everyone is striving and going at - Life! See you around!

Answers beyond your wildest imagination? Contact your local Deity to talk to the Fate herself. Or give Fate a phone call. She has a phone too, yknow?

The United States of America

After the assassination of Franklin D. Roosevelt by communists in 1942, the military swooped in to take power, placing Douglas MacArthur as President. WWII ends with America fully annexing Japan and its islands, minus the Kuril Islands, South Sakhalin and Taiwan.

"The eventual fate of such revolts and experiments in this new-fangled 'democracy thing'. I am hardly surprised it devolved into a land ruled by a petty warlord. Nor is it surprising that said warlord has to give themselves such elaborate titles and ranks, to make himself seem even a fraction as good as a rightful monarch. I give them only two centuries before the whole thing falls into anarchy, and smaller warlords carve it up into pieces, cannibalizing off of the whole, who then fall to their own revolutions over and over. Serves the degenerate separatists right for revolting against their rightful monarch. Their whole nation is illegitimate anyhow; it is, and always was, nothing more than an upstart colony. Under law, the right and lawful monarchy should be able to retake it at any time they desire to. Which leaves this MacArthur character nothing more than an obnoxious windbag. But that's to be expected, after all he is nothing more than a plebeian. Some people struggle all their lives to acquire power, clawing at any opportunity. And some people are born into it. And try as they might, the former will never really be equal to the latter."

- His Glorious Excellency, Galerius Illustris Augustus Severus Lupus Cornibus Maximinius Julianus Magnus Purpureus Celsus Lucius Attius Mancinus III, by the will of the gods, Holy Emperor of Caligolus of the Most Honorable and Distinguished House Illustris, King and Consul of Gurstom, of Echahar, of Chuegularia, of the Free State of Lobolen, of Bunovania, of Akandi, of Ashenfall, of the Free State of Karngestran, of Denema, of Ghostring, of Upper and Lower Haddenhelm, of Tobalenhi, of the Holy and Imperial Sovereign Free State of Greater and Lesser Trendarenhalspen, Archconsul of Caligolus, Overlord of the Northern Spire, Sovereign Ruler of the Greater Imperial Territories, Magister of the Free City of Cebelin, Magister of the Honorable Order of the Golden Eye, Magister of the Exalted and Regal Order of the House of Kings, Magister of the Distinguished Order of the House of Majesty, Conqueror of all the Land, Sea, and Sky, Master of The Ten Thousand Winds, Lord-Regent of all the Elements and Spirits, Protector of the World, the celebrated ruler of the land, who is crowned and rules by the glory of the Imperial gods, whose eye may see ten million things, and whose very decree forces the Sun to rise and set in acknowledgement of his divinely ordained rule.

AN:

"Yes, yes, if it isn't the degenerate upstart once more, believing in such absurd and experimental ideas that erode away the very foundation of a civilized society as laid down by my ancestors! My frumentari had some rather choice words about you in their report, saying that you support unions and 'workers rights' too. It seems to me nearly every idea you stand for is complete poppycock. Nothing would please me so much to have you crucified in public, as a sign to unwashed masses! People like you are why companies like the Pennyworths exist, to put such union-boys and union-girls in shallow graves. I should pay a few million to go down to your little festering backwater and civilize the whole damn land. Your people have strayed so far from what makes a true, civilized people. Slavery will do your people some good."

- His Glorious Excellency, Galerius Illustris Augustus Severus Lupus Cornibus Maximinius Julianus Magnus Purpureus Celsus Lucius Attius Mancinus III, by the will of the gods, Holy Emperor of Caligolus of the Most Honorable and Distinguished House Illustris, King and Consul of Gurstom, of Echahar, of Chuegularia, of the Free State of Lobolen, of Bunovania, of Akandi, of Ashenfall, of the Free State of Kamgestran, of Denema, of Ghosting, of Upper and Lower Haddenhelm, of Tobalenhi, of the Holy and Imperial Sovereign Free State of Greater and Lesser Trendarenhalpen, Archconsul of Caligolus, Overlord of the Northern Spire, Sovereign Ruler of the Greater Imperial Territories, Magister of the Free City of Cebelin, Magister of the Honorable Order of the Golden Eye, Magister of the Exalted and Regal Order of the House of Kings, Magister of the Distinguished Order of the House of Majesty, Conqueror of all the Land, Sea, and Sky, Master of The Ten Thousand Winds, Lord-Regent of all the Elements and Spirits, Protector of the World, the celebrated ruler of the land, who is crowned and rules by the glory of the Imperial gods, whose eye may see ten million things, and whose very decree forces the Sun to rise and set in acknowledgement of his divinely ordained rule.

Regarding Kal'Shazzar:
How utterly saddening, to neuter such a brilliant force of progress and discovery for the sake of some ridiculous notions of ethics. Were it up to me, the Godulans should have fallen into ruin for such tragic stupidity. And yet, through the intervention of this "Sarathress", he has risen once more, taken them under his control, and guided them into a new age. A fate well deserved, and much like my own - freeing them from the psychological chains that bind them to stagnation.

Regarding Empress Nemo:
Well isn't she just a bundle of happiness. I know, I'm one to talk, but - "tyrannical despot" this, "psychopathic dictator" that, it all seems a little excessive, no? I'm not big on individual autonomy either, but I don't make it the defining aspect of my ideology. She does seem to be doing well for her empire though, technological advances and strengthening the Imperial war machine are definitely to be commended, and her people appear to be behind her as ruthlessly brutal as she may be, which is something I can also respect. May she continue to bring glory and conquest to her nation, as I do to mine.

However, despite agreeing with most of comrade Valthar's ideas, I would recommend focusing more on police and less on the military. It seems that the former needs more support while the latter is already powerful enough. Militarism is fine, but my biggest concern about comrade Valthar is his expansionist ideas and dislike of peace. Why does the revolution work for, if not for peace and well-being of all peoples?"

"The Portuguese Queen is at best unimpressive to me. She appears to be beloved to her people, but she has little to no impressive feats of statesmanship to name of, her greatest accomplishment is appearing on a risque modeling paper, an act unbecoming of any noble, much less the Heir Apparent of a proud kingdom such as Portugal, and that's ignoring the frankly questionable nature of her love life. Maybe it's just me, but I expect queens to be at least as qualified as kings, and this... Queen Isabella is less accomplished than even the worst of the Bourbons before the Revolution."

It seems she is informed about the literal torching of Artemis Prime, formerly known as Low Bloods. The Governor is having quite the barbecue, you can see it from space, all those silly rebels should have kept their place, I tell you, Claudia. If they thought could get away with defying our enlightenment, they were blazingly dead wrong and now they'll be charred corpses thanks to their own stupidity. If you wish to do something about it. Be my guest, I've been making a killing in the rebellion, and if foreign powers intervene, I'll be making more so hope right in there with your legionaries. Anyways, thinking about you getting involved seems unlikely, you prefer sitting on that throne doing absolutely nothing out of some deluded fear you enacting your will cause divisiveness in your little empire, it seems to only bring causing trouble as you allow discrimination against religious minorities, which will only lead to well, perhaps just minor revolts but costly ones. I recommend you do something about it or contact my company, we are experts in removing termites. Overall my assessment is neutral. I'll see you later as I got some s'mores to make in Artemis.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

QUOTE

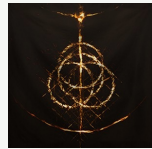

"Y'know it's ironic. Truly it is. Johnny-boy over here, the man who claims to hate dictators and warlords made no effort to curb his own son's bloodthirsty tyranny. All the while he preaches on and on about meritocracy, justice equal opportunity for all, et cetera et cetera. Simply put I am thoroughly disappointed." - Phoenix Arcanum

"Ahh an immortal, there's alot of them out there. All living so happily, a light I've grasped in some concepts.

He is a bit more lighthearted, but isnt like most, he uses his immortality as a weapon, for his people. Much like I do.
I respect that.

I'm sure we will eventually hold a match. When Lowblood has reached it's prime again. I find it funny he even sees the aggressive manner of Rapture."-The first king

"The more I read about this so-called "first king of corpses", the more I am beginning to appreciate Oni's existence a lot more. Besides, in contrast to Oni, this first king had a window of opportunity wide open for him to kill all, if not all, destroy that dreary, pissant underwater city while he was still living among them. However he decided to not kill everybody else and returned home to gather his best troops, up until his present situation against the Republic. He fails to make a good impression of himself as a king and as a warrior, and as a tactical commander, that is quite disappointing for any great ruler to witness the first king's war."

"Let's just say, it would be far better for Northern Ateria if they launched her into space to the stars instead of that satellite, and someone else, more reasonable replaced her. She dragged her country in pointless wars, and if one of her enemies gets her pretty lil' head... that would be a bright example of karma in action. She horrifically fails to make an impression of a civilized and level headed leader, and gives monarchy a bad name. Like, some dudes, who see a monarch the first time in their lives, see her and decide, that monarchy is a system, that empowers overprivileged psychotic manchildren, and decide, that this all sucks. Of course folks rarely judge on case-by-case basis, and I am gonna admit, I am sometimes one of them... Of course, not in terms of monarchs, for I judge them case-by-case.

So, they decide, that monarchs are just folks, who cannot be taken seriously. And this is a total pain in the ass for actually decent and competent kings and queens, who actually guide their nation to the bright future and bring prestige to their dynasty among both nobles and common dudes.

Either way, her empire may conquer alot, but will it manage to hold those lands? I mean, overextension is a widespread disease for empires, often terminal, which results in age of decadence and inevitable collapse. And to handle this, it takes an entire cast of masterful administrators. And even then, it may only slow down growth of corruption, as forces, who control this are spread too thin and recently conquered, not liberated locals are not to be trusted. But who am I explaining this to? I doubt, she's gonna comprehend this...

So yes, if Rapture Republic decides to put her out of business, I'll get my popcorn and watch the show. Overall rating: 1 spoiled brats out of 10.

Now sorry, I gotta go, cuz our ambassador in Ukraine screwed up, and I am gonna have to make a serie of calls and fix all the mess he caused. It was entirely his fault, and this may worsen our relations! And yes, it happened, when I was about to watch the next season of my favorite serie, so I'll give this asshole a stern reprimand!"-Shawn Bjornson
