They're also getting rid of a lot of studio versions of songs.

Those mother fuckers.

Is that really their fault or the record labels faults?

Well, having a broken Favorites button kind of defeats the point of why I use YouTube while going through Spotify stuff...to add it to favorites for no good reason.

It tells me "Invalid Request"

People say there is/was a limit of 650 favorites. I have 4,950. Maybe it is some limit problem...

Well hey, it makes my posting easier, not really going to complain.

Okay, so I deleted a video, making it 4949 Favorites, and it still says Invalid Request so it's probably just being funky. Oh well.
