Offense to public morality, unenforced by the actual government but might theoretically bring you a fine of up to $ 300 in a country where that's half of the median monthly wage.

That is standard procedure for humans. As long as they filed the paperwork for transferral, nothing.

Either a life sentence or death. Slavery is one of the six crimes in Atrovalia which currently can result in a death sentence (although it is not always tried in the only Atrovanian civilian court allowed to give death sentences). If a person is found guilty of slavery and Atrovania and isn't executed, they receive an automatic life sentence. Further, most or all of their assets are seized and given as compensation to their victims. If there is anything left after the victims have been given more than enough to allow them to live comfortable lives, the government takes the rest.

First degree murder (or the term your nation uses for murder which is premeditated).

The Republic of Atrovania is not a WA member state. There is more detail in Atrovania's Information & Disclaimers page on this topic, and other areas.

In terms of technology, most Atrovanian technology is modern technology (MT), often enhanced with elements of Post-Modern Technology (PMT). Atrovania has the knowledge to use PMT to enhance MT, but lacks the capabilities to build and maintain things which are entirely PMT for the next (likely) several decades, at a minimum.

Straight out of the gate, mass forced imprisonment, which is 15 years in prison. Adding in multiple accounts of second-degree murder, depending on how many people are killed, $15 + 75x$, where x = the number of people killed, years in prison.

Shooting someone in the head and killing them because they stole your cookie three weeks ago. It was premeditated. It was entirely purposeful.

It will be seen as proof you intended to kill them (unless you have some sort of EXTREME condition), you get at least 15 years to life for attempted murder or, if they die, the family can demand the death penalty and compensation. If they don't demand the death penalty you still owe them compensation and you have a life sentence with least 16 years spent actually in prison. The average sentence for murder by poisoning (where the family don't demand death) is 25 years to life and the payment of $4,50,000.
