Two of their parties, Republic Sic! and Parti Labor Cantelés, are the successors of militant revolutionary groups, and attract a fair bit of controversy because of that fact. While the PLC isn't strictly anti-monarchist like RS is, the two often cooperate due to similar economic views, namely advocacy of increased welfare spending.

Judging from their military factbooks it appears that Ilyushin, Russian Aircraft Corporation/Mikoyan and Sukhoi all apparently keep using upgrade packages for existing late Cold War era airplanes in the near future.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

The Tropical Isles operates under essentially an inversion of what a typical constitutional monarchy is like, with the president being the largely ceremonial head of state, while the king is the head of government and holds more political influence.

During the Cold War the TSR's military was heavily bolstered by Soviet forces. These forces include a mixture of armored vehicles, naval vessels, and jet aircraft. Soviet troops within borders are mostly free to interact with citizens and use services within the republic.

It appears that the concept of "British nationalism" never came into existence. In fact, the whole of Great Britain was named after the Kingdom of England and "Britannia" seems to be more of a historical way of referring to the island.
