I'm not really sure what makes something "overproduced", because things that people say are "overproduced" I never really feel like is that noteworthy of a thing for me, but something about the production on a lot of this Devin Townsend stuff kinda doesn't do a lot for me for some reason, after a 2nd listen

"Overproduced" is a really subjective statement, like a lot of stuff with music.

Lupe Fiasco - How Dare You

Forgot that this album is my least favorite from him...lot of cheesy rapping and production in it. Still decent though, 8/10.

Thankfully Tetsuo Season is upon us.

I was just listening to a station which played two Cindi Lauper songs in a row.

That hasn't happened in a while.

Dark Funeral - The Secrets Of The Black Arts

“ CVT Temp wrote:

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.
