An event similar to 9/11.

911 in reality was performed very bad compared to what it could have done.

HOG RIDAAHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH

10000 years in the future, Historians find this forum post from an old, defunct site named "NationStates":

Future Historian: What is a... Hog Ridah?

Another future historian: It is apparently part of a global entertainment app named "Clash of Clans". The "game", as they called it, was very popular among teenage boys. This sparked other games, like Rise of Kingdoms. Most speculate this is because all humans had the desire to rule the world, but most teens of that era were "edgy basement dwellers", so they stuck to this primitive entertainment instead. Of course, this was Web 2.0, where playground insults were commonly thrown around, and no one had the courage to do much at all.

Future Historian: Makes sense. Those Web 2.0 hippies. Web 92.1 is objectively better.

Another Future Historian: I agree. Although the... primitive brains of Humans back then prohibited much-needed growth.

Future Historian: True, true. Anyways, what's this? *points to a website by the name of 'X' or 'Twitter' "

Another Future Historian: No. No no no no no. We are NOT going there, Gerald! We've been over this one thousand times! NO!
