Detonation of a dirty bomb in a populated area.

Brutal interrogation and investigation as to the how and the why one would do such a thing, even though for us in particular such a weapon is not particularly deadly. If there was a loss of life, at the conclusion of the investigation and once we are sure there is no more information to be squeezed out of the perpetrator, sentenced to Disassembly (Death). The exact methods could vary from electrocution, firing squad, incineration, radiation exposure, or a life of hard labor.

Knowingly using cheap and unsafe materials in construction.

Thorough Investigation to confirm claims are accurate and that the actual abuser is punished. Punishment is usually a hefty fine and a year or so in prison, minimum, depending on level of abuse and remorse.

Animal Abuse.

Animal abuse in my nation carries no minimum or maximum punishment, but it is a class C crime, second lowest class there is.

Burning a field in a public park?

That is a complicated one: Made to re-cultivate the field (by hand if possible) while wearing a sandwich board that reads, " I did this." Fined an appropriate amount for depriving the public of a common use venue. The event is posted on the opening of the person homepage (nearly everyone in this counterfactual world is their own social media network). Checked for signs of mental deviancy, and if found criminally insane remanded to a sanitarium until criminal's condition improves. If found to have done this for ratings, then publicly caned (3 - 5 blows of appropriate force dependent upon health of criminal).

Impersonating a sanitation worker, hijacking a garbage truck (or your nations rough analog), and dumping the garbage on the steps of your leader's residence as a protest?

Murder?

Depends on who it is. If the victim isn't one of our members or associates, and is not someone who is useful to us, we don't do anything about it. (Some of our clients and associates are serial killers, even.) If, however, the victim is one of our members or associates, or someone who is useful to us, we punish the perpetrator with an extrajudicial killing and mutilation of their body as a warning to others. If grave enough, we may kill or traffic the relatives of the perpetrator as well.

Political corruption?
