They are an old medieval nation that can use powers to disable sci-fi technology in battle.

The Confederacy of Mar-Sara, based off the planet and Confederacy from the popular strategy game "StarCraft", before you start asking, no we do not own slaves, our flag has a different design and meaning compared to the other one. We don't use NS-stats, they wouldn't work with our nation.

I've always find it interesting to see players write constitutions for their nations in order to outline the government and society they are aiming to create for their nations.

It feels like a strange mix of a bunch of former British Colonies and just former colonial countries in general, especially some form of the United States.

I like it, a lot. It feels like it may have been inspired by the Templin Institute's Greater Terran Union in Stellaris Invicta.

Anyways, Jesus. That's a huge military. It's so large it causes a 404 (which should be a 404.15 or a 509 Bandwidth Limit Exceeded) Error... Jeez.

In the Universe of the Union of Sovereign States and Republics, the coup that deposed Gorbachev never happened, and he was able to put his plans of reforming the old Soviet Union into a new Confederated-type republic. Also, it seems that relations between the Americans and the Soviets cooled down, because I mean, they went to space together.

The Inking-Peruvian war started in 1831 and ended in 1843. It started with the rise of tensions between the Confederation of Inkopolitia and the king of Peru who held humanist views. The war was originally in the favor of Peru with them managing to capture most of the Inking capitals and committing atrocities against the Inklings.

Welcome to The Alpes a Septentrionali Imperium, a nation where I brutalize and adapt Latin and French History to my needs to get my Ultraroyalist Absolutist French Monarchy with a vaguely French-sounding fictional royal family to work.

Don't ask about the flag, it has something to do with RMB RP that I'm involved with.

The second Emperor of the Alpes, once the regency was over, knew little to nothing about how to exactly rule, so he created a law that would allow him to pick his successor before abdicating, he picked a gal and abdicated. All in the lapse of nine days.

Looks like they're based in the Starcraft universe. The Confederacy itself was formed by treaty among several planets wishing to secede from the then-dominant Terran Dominion under Arcturus Mengsk, and it gained popular support which aided it in winning its war and claiming half of the Dominion's territories as its own. This apparently amounts to 65 planets, which is, well, a lot.

Well, I'll be. A space empire that's actually not too cliché. It even has its own cool dating system! It feels like it takes some inspiration from the Imperium, but I guess that's a given with human space empires.

I feel obligated to mention that I've never watched/played Warhammer 40k, if that's the Imperium you're referring to. I think. The only sci-fi material I'm familiar enough with to refer to is Star Wars. I know, I know, I'm not very well-

They're a modern day Soviet Union that managed to reform itself, albeit with a loss of territory and administrative restructuring.

Partially inspired by the Third Odyssey mod for EU4, this nation is essentially a Byzantine successor state in South America that has fused together Ancient Greek Religion with Greek Orthodox Christianity. It mixes the aesthetic of Byzantium and Ancient Greece, with very open and liberal social values but with an Imperial Monarchy. NS stats are referenced but are not strictly followed to a T.

So... two or more possible takeaways from this, to me:

140,000 B.C - The Grand Squid is born near the beaches of Colombia, according to Verse 1 Chapter 1 of the Book of Madai

I wonder what will happen if Gwen, or any other time-traveller accidentally squashed the Grand Squid, or something else entirely. Also that makes me wonder... if the Grand Squid is born, what about its parents, and its parents' parents, and so on? 🤔

Also on a takeaway that Squidism is a very nice religion and I see itself being in-line and being suitable for modern society. It basically tells everyone to be nice to one another, or bad deeds will be punished. On top of that, NO discrimination, that is neat!

AN:

So... I learned that they have problems with The Zergs? Hmm... I wonder if I can actually do a Zerg Rush on them? Now you are giving me ideas. 🤔

In a very uno-reverse card scenario, the Confederacy of the South was at war with the Slave-Ownng states of the North. Eventually, the constitutionalists won and dismantled the Allied States and abolished slavery all over Inkopolitia

Ack, Ninja'd <_>

AN: After looking at all the languages that make up your one united one, I realized a lot of them make sense given the context.

For example, Latin being the language of law, German being the language of transportation and infastructure, Arabic being the language of history, etc.

However, there are others that make no goddamn sense. Like, seriously? English, Dutch, and Icelandic Grammer? Why would you do that to those poor bastards man 🤔

In all seriousness, it's a very extremely interesting Conlang and I give it a 9/10
