Listening to the album Takes One to Know One by Elmo Williams & Hezekiah Early. They are a two piece blues act with Elmo on guitar/vocals and Hezekiah on drums/harmonica. I doubted that at first, but he really does play harmonica while drumming, his harmonica is mounted on part of the drum kit

Libido Airbag - Hepatitis Appetizer

Released by Autopsy Stench Records, licensed from Stuhlgang Records.

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Not posting as frequently today.

Black Hawk Down Soundtrack-Hans Zimmer-Hunger

Couldn't think of what I wanted to listen to so just grabbed a short soundtrack with fairly long songs. The rest of the ambient bands I need to go through have too many songs for me to want to listen to right now. Yeah, I could go through one album like I did with Brian Eno, but those I would probably want to entirely clear out.

Lyrics like that isn't exactly very encouraging for me to care about trying Kanye West any more then before.

iirc it's supposed to demonstrate how desperate he's getting in the narrative of the song

course you can take anything out of context

Well, that works better, then.

Yeah. I can think of a few things that have been taken out of context before that is annoying.
