You better not. Reminds me of a similar occurrence that happened in elementary school when we got our list of words to study for a spelling test. The theme was opposites, and someone forgot to put another bullet point to separate "pretty" and "ugly" so it said "pretty ugly" and being little kids, we giggled.

Someone's complaint about Karnivool was that "They try too hard to avoid typical rock song structure.". Seems like a weird complaint if you ask me...

I also love all the "Sounds like Tool" for both Rishloo and Karnivool, both of which to me sound quite drastically different from each other. Yeah, they both may have Tool influences, but Rishloo and Karnivool both feel like their own thing to me.

I can dig Karnivool. Sound Awake is a good album and they're not nearly half as pretentious as Tool fans.

of Montreal - Gronlandic Edit

This album makes me want to turn full on gay AND makes me depressed at the same time.

I don't really like of Montreal for some reason.

Yeah, they're a very polarising band. You either love them or hate them. I'm firmly the former.

I saw that too; that's a stupid complaint. The fact that their songs flow so well despite being so complex is a good showing that they're perfect for the music they play.

I fucking hate those comments. I don't think they sound very similar at all. I guess all band with an L and a double O all sound the same.

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

There was maybe 1 Rishloo song that I felt was similar to Tool, IN A WAY. Still, they are both mostly their own thing.

I looked at some random band earlier, I think something like Prisma (don't remember the exact name), that had the same exact comments and they sounded completely different then both Rishloo and Karnivool. It's ridiculous. It's like the people I saw calling the new Sigur Ros song Dubstep. Now because of Dubstep, everyone associates any bass sounds with Dubstep.

Ehhhhhhhh, yeah they don't sound like Tool either. Also I'm not sure that I like them.

Since I rarely listen to Tool so maybe I'm a bit at a loss here when I say something doesn't sound like it. At least with Karnivool and Rishloo I like both of them where I don't like Tool, heh.

Yeah, I was mixed on them. They seemed alright, but, I dunno, a less interesting-sounding progressive rock band? (don't know for a fact if they are). I was definitely on the fence, but I wouldn't consider them to be terrible. They may grow on me, but I got other priorities right now.

I need to listen to more Tool. I like some of their stuff, and I know my mom likes them (which doesn't mean a whole lot, but yeah, even though she likes a lot of what I like too)
