I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Justin Timberlake - Pusher Love Girl

I'm kind of late on the whole 20/20 Experience, I like it.
FutureSex/LoveSound is still his best though, a hard to match pop album at its finest.

I've been listening to this one a lot. I'll try yours if you try mine.

Not really my thing, BUT they intrigue me. I looked them up and I saw they had 5 vocalists and 1 drummer. Interesting that all the bass and guitars is vocals.

So even though they don't really interest me (Not a power metal fan), they are definitely interesting with their approach.

Archive-Whore

I liked it, but I can't see why it would be a song for repeating. ☐
