Monkey 5127 was a victim of medical malpractice.

People tend to assume that Entrance of the Gladiators by Julius Fučík is what that ever so famous circus clown theme is. And in a way, it is. Nobody would ever argue with you on this fact.
However, if you want to be an unlikable, pedantic jerk, the song actually known to be circus music would be a version composed for American woodwind bands (and later transcribed for fairground organs) titled Thunder and Blazes, published by Louis-Philippe Laurendeau.
Of course, this information is of absolutely no consequence to anyone.

Monkey 5109 Was Dismayed as he Lost his Voice Actor Role for Winnie the Pooh, as it had been Replaced by a Oriental-Looking Man Who Previously Worked For an Unusual Business known as the Chinese Communist Party. When the New Voice actor was Asked about Monkey 5109, He Simply Replied With "I Don't know who he even is, I've been working as a Voice Actor for my whole working life!"

Monkey 5108 was working in a room with 99 other monkeys trying to reproduce the complete works of Shakespeare by typing randomly. He had just finished random Hamlet when he discovered a typo on page 5 which would require him to start over. He died of despondency.
