I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Autechre-Lost

I think I will just BARELY manage to finish all my EP's before I leave. Plowed through most of them like usual, and going to do the same with some of these Autechre ones, but it looks like it will be doable. I just have to mix getting things done in real life AND finishing Autechre's gazillion EP's at once. Should be fun.

But Autechre is ALL I have left. Meaning 7 more EP's. Had 11 from the band in total. Already did 4 today (Skipped through one)
