The Rulzea are the dominant species in the UCBR. They number about 16 billion (let's hope I counted my 0's right). The Rulzea have a tight-knit social structure with the family as the base unit, and from there families form burrows, and the relationship therein is about as tight as that between family members.

There are six theories as to the etymology of Nacrad. One of these six suggests that the words is a corruption of an ancient native insult uttered in discontent against British rule in the region, while another suggests that it is a corruption of Naam hak (Dark Cave)... None of these two or (presumably) the other four explain where the d comes from.

In 2225, Deneb made contact with Earth once again. The Interstellar Confederation, itself the result of the unification of the planet by the European Confederation and later its expansion into the stars, was aware of the species the Commonwealth was fighting against.

Their religion, Maleficism, is one hell of an philosophical trip. One of their gods, Crone, governs doesn't exists, which makes it rather interesting to ask yourself how it works.

The nation has a thorough system to guarantee that law-abiding civilians can own weapons which excludes those who have committed crimes, those who have failed to achieve a minimum score on a psychological assessment test, and those who are underage (18). That said, public security has significantly improved over the last decades -- bringing homicide rates down from 57,000 in 2020 (woah) to 326 in 2057, thus making it so a majority of their citizens choose to note own personal defence weapons.

The Sword of the Creator is an artefact owned and/or created by the 'Professor of Caleon' that can, if used by someone holding the Blessing of Admiration, quite literally unravel time and physics itself within its range, also to near-infinately increase its range by its own self. If used improperly, it can drive its owner to madness, something that has caused "international criticism" since most people uh use it improperly.

A certain Adalwin Alfbad of Frisia was born as the offspring of Frida, who was the princess of Denmark and Ijsbrecht, and was generally less favored than his well-groomed sister and his scholar brother, and during the age of six he was taken in by someone from the Order of Twenty-Nine to be educated in martial manners.

This nation underwent a socialist revolution, which ended the mass unrest which paralyzed its predecessor nation (Just the current RL USA more or less), and it is now governed as an egalitarian Soviet state.

September 23rd 2040... The then fledgling Anti-Gravity Racing Commission establishes a unified superstate to act as a gigantic test track for high speed AG racing in an effort to revive a bankrupt European Federation.

In 2241, we've taken that to another level. Behold the advent of governance through entertainment.
