Erm... maybe.

I'm not liking the amount of energy produced by oil; if they ran out of fossil fuels, then the entire country would have to go through a massive energy crisis.

However, the economy is doing surprisingly well, and the political freedom and civil rights are pretty high.

So yeah, maybe. But I'm cautious about that energy production ratio.

Never.

"The Emperor Protects!"-Common Imperial saying

The Great Imperium of Man is a Warhammer 40k themed nation based on the human faction of the game. Though we're inspired by the Imperium of Man from the lore, I've taken certain liberties to make my nation unique from other 40k nations.

Please refer to our factbooks for NS-Stats, we don't use the official ones.

Would I live in The Brytish Isles? Sure, I guess. It does seem relatively tolerable.
Reason: Although their government are somewhat authoritarian, they do seem to use it for the good of Brytish society and they do have some decent freedoms so I wouldn't really mind that much.

I could probably deal with it.

Edit: AN: the big turn off for me is the lack of cars, which just gets bigger with the size of the nation

Maybe.

Partially inspired by the Third Odyssey mod for EU4, this nation is essentially a Byzantine successor state in South America that has fused together Ancient Greek Religion with Greek Orthodox Christianity. It mixes the aesthetic of Byzantium and Ancient Greece, with very open and liberal social values but with an Imperial Monarchy. NS stats are referenced but are not strictly followed to a T.

Welcome to The Alpes a Septentrionali Imperium, a nation where I brutalize and adapt Latin and French History to my needs to get my Ultraroyalist Absolutist French Monarchy with a vaguely French-sounding fictional royal family to work.

Don't ask about the flag, it has something to do with RMB RP that I'm involved with.
