Besides from the consequences of not adhering to the state religion, it doesn't seem too bad. Therefore, whilst it wouldn't really be on the top of my list, I guess it wouldn't hurt to live there, so sure.

Not much to read on it but it seems okay, aside from being British Columbia with a fair bit of Egopolis trope thrown in.

Note

No. Aside from my general dislike of authoritarian regimes - especially when said regimes are headed by some sort of monarch - I don't think it would be a very good place to live. One the reasons I say so is that it's apparently set in the early to mid 20th century, so would of course have a lower standard of living than the modern day. Another reason is the authoritarian; women are seemingly not enfranchised and the military, industrial, and political leaders who made up the Wehrstaat dictatorship still exert influence over the state at this time.

I'd say this nation is about 85-90% representative to my beliefs

About the only difference between my nation and beliefs is that free markets are effective in a select few situations, and the compulsory organ harvesting is kind of screwed up

I'm probably in the minority, but I actually pay more attention to in game stats than to roleplay
