Alright, I'm calling it a day and going to bed. But first a song about the legendary Zawisza Czarny. Put the Teutonic Knights to the sword and died fighting the Ottomans after refusing the King's call to retreat.

All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.
