They are descendedants (culturally at least) of the Carthaginians of old. They are now ruled by a semi-constitutional monarchy that is keen to preserve their people's cultural heritage.

On June 3, people celebrate the birthday of the Goddess SinB. The celebration includes dancing and gardening.

"Somewhere far away, in the distant dunes that rest silhouetted far beyond the ethereal horizons of good and evil, Convallaria has emerged as a technocratic dreamscape of shimmering ambitions and passionate indulgence. A pioneering realm of unbridled industrial sprawl and paranoid black-market underworlds centered around three things: champagne, wealth, and vigorous McCarthyism..."

President LaSalle, unlike most world leaders, actually pursued a higher education in architecture, and is known for his skill in urban planning.

"New Carthage" in Gallo-Phoenician sounds something along the lines of how a Turk would pronounce the Farsi equivalent for it (Gdida -> "Jadid", i.e. "new")

Well, Phoenician was a Semitic language, hence the similarities.

Fort Zapata, the capital, is very dense and planned specifically for a high resident to land ratio while limiting wasted space. Most areas have mixed land use, and the lower stories of buildings typically feature commercial spaces, while the upper floors are reserved for residential uses.

Covering an area of 695,662 km², Convallaria is among the most geographically diverse nations in North America. The Eugenias, the fertile farmlands of the Central Valley, and the arid Grand Chapelle Desert of the south are some of the major geographic features of the nation. It is home to some of the world's most exceptional trees: including the Convallarian Redwood, the Giant Sequoia, and the ancient bristlecone pine. About 49 percent of the country's total surface area is covered by forests, and Convallaria's diversity of pine species is unmatched by any other nation outside Asia.

Basically they're the Soviet Union in North America (big surprise there) if Soviet Democracy had actually survived more than 10 years and Lenin (or FSNA's Xóchitl) didn't bite the dust so early on.

Being seen reading the newspaper regularly by the members of Neighborhood Civic Committees avoids you a big deal of questioning.

It has also become a trend for youth to post selfies with the newspaper while sleeping as a form of online activism.

Those are some of the reasons for the inflated number.

Their capital seems to look a bit like Melbourne, Australia but it's in the south of France. Hmm...

Their capital city is composed of four districts that are named for the visible portions of an embryo. That's... certainly a novelty.

One hella fucked up novelty, but a novelty nonetheless.

Apparently the Godulans were ruled by a select few anti-god-like vampire kings. They had incalculable strength and would feed on deities, with one of them even having the power to literally transmorph into concentrated 'psionic' energy.

Neat-o!
