But the universe refused to be destroyed...

As Aila observed from her spaceship in panic, random highly redshifted galaxies disappear for a few seconds, but then reappear.

Through the power of cyberspaces and quantum mechanics, the Ashotu virus is kept at bay, most importantly by Aila and Mina's research.

Aila: "Is this what I think it is? [Ashotu user]! You bastard, attempting to destroy us all!"

New man somehow merges the two universes, although Banana Republic Man is dead.

The wormholes connecting the spaceship to cyberspace reacting with the Ashotu virus amplify Aila's stats by a huge factor.

Lavitz: "Ugh... what is happening to Aila?! It's as bright as the center of a supernova over here, but we're not getting annihilated instantly..."

Limitless Aila: "You fool. You have awakened a power known only to the most specialized of multiverses..."

Mina: "Dang it, we lost the primary target. We can now cure people of Ashotu virus though."
