I am sure that you have heard a lot about this one from me, so I will spare you the details and go straight to the point. You are pretty much a crazy person overall, and I hate the fact that you have been oppressing people all the time to no end! It's appalling! At the very least, I think I can rest easy knowing that you are not that against the environment. I mean, I don't see myself or reading that you hate and want to kill the trees!

I have to say, I am inclined to believe that you will be the one with Mother Nature, are you not? I don't think you believe in superstitions, or the supernatural, but... the one and only Mother Nature, residing in the world of Valentine Z, is right in front of you! I think I will give you a few seconds to recover from that... are you done? Ahh, good! So yes, glad to see you around! I think with your researching and scientific nature, I can only hope that you will be the one researching on botany and ecology, to preserve the wondrous world of Nature herself! I hope to see you soon!

"So dear Mercer is doing what he does best: Enslaving and conquering those who can't properly run themselves, spreading Rapture across the stars. God knows he can't do it on his own, though...I need to get involved with this, actually. I haven't been on the field in some time, and striking down entire fleets with nothing more than my own body, some cosmic fire, and willpower is something I've missed doing...In fact, I should give dear Mercer a weapon to aid him. Or simply convert his existing weaponry to have magical properties. Perhaps even the black hole ammunition I developed some time back. Whatever the case, war shall be had. So long as it means ensuring the best and brightest mind in the multiverse survives."

What happens when you cross anime powers and overpowered leaders with furrries, all written by a bored Homestuck fan with too much time? Well, you get Rumei. A multiethnic, FT republic with both might and magic that let it conquer the entire Orion Arm.

A 7.6 (this is probably outdated but I can't do the calculations rn) (Tier 9, Level 6, Type 9) according to this index.

Come to The Orion, we got CULTURE and FURRIES

Show Recommendation: Cobra Kai. It is very, very good.

"Two front war? Is he sure, that this is a good idea? After all, it makes country to disperse it's resources and makes logistics and grand strategy planning geometrically more complicated. Especially in a war agaisnt sapient robotic foes, who never tire and need no sleep, no food, no water to function. And on top of that, diseases, cold and heat are something they can easily ignore. All that makes them ideal guerrilla fighters. He better not pick any more fights until he finishes his business with Ateria and Paramount. Yeah, I know, that bratty murderous manchild and crapshot AI ain't gonna form some sort of anti-Rapture coalition, but still... Dispersed resources and manpower means prolonged war, and as Sun Tzu said, a short war can be won even by an unskilled warlord, while long war is hardly winnable even for a masterful warlord.

After all, if Kraken hits one foe with all it's tentacles, it would hurt much more than if it hits many foes with one tentacle per foe. Besides, he already has problems with lowians on a homefront. He better have some sort of plan."

"Oh, damn... I forgot about Mercer's love interest. A strong strategic ally, I can tell ya', but still, this all becomes a large web of war, alliances and intrigues, and I gotta be very careful about all that stuff, since war on our territory is something we really don't need and should avoid. Either way, I should exercise caution." -Shawn Bjornson

To my fellow leaders before I begin this routine in commenting on His Majesty, Emperor Narcissus. It has come to my attention that even with immortality bestowed to me by my dear friend and colleague, Doctor Blackwell. That I stated Rapture is going to war with the Octavians despite me frankly having no memory of me doing such a thing. But it seems I did after personally through the logs. I would like to make this clear, Rapture is not at war with the Octavian Empire, and my statement is to be disregarded. This was a statement crafted by an old man developing old man problems, and I would wish to avoid a diplomatic incident, if possible. I shall seek medical treatment so something this like this. It doesn't happen again. And to my allies, Ignis States. Calm yourselves, there shall remain an intense peace with the Octavians and as well with their sympathizers. And it shall remain an intense peace and nothing more. Nevertheless, I reiterate again, Rapture and Octavia are not at war and hopefully never shall be.

Now getting back to our regular program. Mr. Narcissus has my utmost admiration and regard for his rise to power and undoing the crimes committed by his successor, which would have brought disaster and potentially the end of the Kharzanite Empire. If he did not act quick end to see that traitorous dictator removed. I will be looking to strengthen Rapture's ties with Kharanzan as we share a common interest in perfecting the human condition, and in truth, I am in need of improvement given my recent embarrassment and shall reflect to prevent future incidents from arising and bringing shame to my beloved countrymen. Overall my assessment is positive.
