"Most of the time I do derive enjoyment from belittling otherworldly creatures, this being an excellent example to target with jests and taunts. Doggy here is simply out of touch with politics and whatnot; without grace and consistency to its character and course. And, pffft hal, a quasi-fascist identifying itself as homosexual? With a son? Hahahahaha! Oh, I'll savour the joke tonight because it is too stupid to possess any context to begin with. Ho...ahem, no wonder past leaders have enough time on their hands to express their disapproval and refusal to even take a dog in a potato sack so seriously, I cannot simply say why they do not like it because it made itself so open to what it believes. What is not to be frank and honest in hate?"

I've heard of this one, the one cannot be spoken without my brother getting hundred anger marks like he was a character from those Imperial Japanese cartoons that are so popular with the Aquarian youth. He is a degenerate by the fullest extent doing nothing at all, besides partying and racking up totally unknown sexual diseases rather than making his nation the peak of human civilization and not the bane of it. A wasted opportunity, indeed. Anyway, I have no reason to dislike him in any fashion without being a clone of my brother, which I would prefer to not share his infamous reputation amongst the community. I do see the potential for me and my colleagues to explore the Skyhookedean jungles to advance our research in botany with bonuses to befitting our clients in the private sector. If permitted, of course, but alas, I wish him a good day and hope to hear back from him soon.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...

would have to say! You know, giving where credit is due, you are not bad, actually. In fact... I like to think that you are a lot better than your brother and hell, I would have asked Valentijn to stand down and not fight back you folks just because of you, you know? You love trees, you seem to be pretty good in botany, and you are a wonderful person for your city in terms of good development, so... those are all the good things about you! I would say that you are a twin of the Chancellor, but... the technicality of being born a few seconds before makes it not a twin. Anyway, I am positive on you, and I hope you have a great day, and Happy Holidays to you, haha! Cheers! ^^ Seriously, though... what on Earth did you do to Langford? Is she dead? Is she just not around? Interesting thing to take note.

Besides it's nothing compared to being trapped inside a box and unable to express other emotions, and smiling like this is painful. Other than focusing on her more pronounced personal traits which associates with her: a nice and gentle, time-travelling giantess, to who she really is: a diabolical, loopy time-travelling giantess whose own abilities lacks the veracity to substantiate her claims on being able to manipulate time. A manipulation of time is not scientifically possible and strays away from the realm of science and reality into science fiction and fantasy...however I do want a fighter pilot with the same capabilities as her, minus the absence of sanity, and have that pilot prove to be significantly better than she was as a pilot during her time as an airwoman."

"Frankly, I am uncertain what to think. They seem to be some form of living Eidolon? No, an actual avatar! They seem to mirror our position on technology and nature... I'll never understand the allure of reading though. I suppose the only complaint I have is why the need for such an enormous name? I'd need Balmo to show me how to pronounce all that." -Achaedus

"A classic mythology of a "mighty warrior", please spare me from this boredom of reading this folklore character and his life story, if anything, he fails to arouse my interest. Disappointing indeed. From appearances he is all sword and no rifle; giving clearance that he fails to understand the nature of modern warfare e.g. the use of weapons on an industrial and technological scale, and science. Without a doubt, he'll fall already with one whiff of Sarin."

"I don't like Sarin. It always smells like pickles for some reason. I prefer mustard gas, honestly. It's spicy. I'm surprised one such as yourself would succumb to such a lowly concept as... what was the term again, Balmothere?"

"Dickwaving, sir."

"Is it? Seems counterintuitive, given the circumstances."

"Just because she is female does not necessarily preclude her from being a dick, sir."

"Fair point."
