If men were angels, no government would be necessary. If angels were to govern men, neither external nor internal controls on government would be necessary. In framing a government which is to be administered by men over men, the great difficulty lies in this: you must first enable the government to control the governed; and the next place, oblige it to control itself.

What if the British were half-hearted in providing self-government to their colonies? Here we take reference to what could have been the separate states of Singapore and Malaya and how economic progress is used as a smokescreen for a lack of true political freedom for the lower classes, a continued economic inequality and a mix of racial and religious tensions amidst a backdrop of rising nationalism.
