Joe Farrell - Sound Down

I hit the jackpot with this album I randomly found.

I've found a lot of last.fm, Spotify, etc. recommendations to be kind of crappy. I don't think they put that much thought into the recommendation systems.

Iced Earth - Plagues of Babylon

After few listens this song is better and better. My score for the whole album changed from 89 to 91.

Last.FM just gave me probably the worst recommendation so far.

A lot of the ones I get make sense, though, actually, even if I don't end up liking them.

Yeah, I was just going through some of my recommendations, and they do make sense...perhaps I confused it with something else.

I think listening through all music recommendations is pointless. I went through all 6 pages and now I have 6 pages of new recommendations...

I got a good amount to listen to now, anyway.

Well, I was listening to A Tribe Called Quest's The Low End Theory, but decided it's too late to be listening to something complex...

Beenie Man - Dude

So Beenie Man will do. ☐

Shostakovich - Symphony No. 5 In D Minor Op. 47, Moderato

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.
